All About Our Featured Artist, Arthur Brooks

I began painting in 1989 when I lived in Waynesboro, Georgia. At that time, I focused on churches and the nearby impressive ante-bellum mansions. The next year I moved to Boone, North Carolina and showed my work at the Jones House and local restaurants. I specialized in portraits of silent movie stars. In 1995, I moved to Spartanburg, South Carolina and showed my work at the art center, where I was on the commission. In 1998 I moved to Charleston and put my painting aside for more lucrative endeavors.

In 2018 I moved to Bisbee and by 2023 I had resumed painting. In March of that year, I joined the Subway Art Gallery at 43 Brewery Gulch in Bisbee. In November 2023, I joined the Huachuca Art Association in Sierra Vista, the Endeavor Gallery in Benson, the Douglas Art Association, and the Gallery of Dreams in St. David.

In April of this year, I enjoyed a featured exhibit of my work (with Carol Chandler who does landscapes in pastel on suede) at the Subway Gallery. Also this year, I have shown my work in Galley 40, on Main Street in Bisbee, Metro 2 Gallery on Bisbee Road in Bisbee, and am currently the featured artist in Tachos Restaurant (Bisbee). I have an exhibit with Carol Chandler at the Douglas Gallery which will run for the month of October. Looking ahead, I have a featured exhibit in April 2025 at the Subway Gallery with watercolorist Diane Given Hayes.

I would say that I am a Modern Realist/Expressionist and am influenced by painters Edward Hopper and Georgia O'Keefe. I favor still-lives and animals, as you can see by the attached examples of my work, but I also paint people.

IN HONOR OF ARTHUR

. A Letter From Our President, Naomi Blackwell

Greetings Artyfolks!

Congratulations; you've made it! Another year done, means another year of challenges and tribulations weathered and overcome; and now a new year of, as of yet, untapped potential to look forward to! But you're not here for my amateur philosophizing; you're here to hear about what's going on at the gallery this month, so let me get right to it.

First of all I would like to thank everyone who came out to our Holiday Party last month to join us for a few hours of camaraderie, good food, and to vote on this year's prospective members of the HAA Board. I am happy to inform you that the membership voted to retain me as HAA president for another year, and in addition to retaining Lois Bravo, Joan Sarraf and Gabrielle Lafargue; Bill Citera and Robert Harris will be joining us as "new" additions to the Board. We'll do our best to make them feel welcome.

Now; it is January, which means that the next big order of business on our Agenda is our Annual Judged Open show! Yes my friends, the time is upon us once again, so, if you haven't already, start working on your projects; get your applications in by, or on, January 10th (No exceptions; this deadline is firm), and don't forget to vote for your favorite for People's Choice in the days leading up to Saturday February 1st, which is when the judging and show reception will take place.

Speaking of the Open Show, organizing it, accepting entries, and hanging is a LOT of work, and so we are seeking volunteers to assist with these essential activities that are needed to make the show a success. A sign up sheet to volunteer can be found on the front counter in the gallery, and if you have any questions regarding the show, please contact Teresa Ebbs, Sue Ziegler or Joan Sarraf.

There WILL still be classes scheduled during January and February, so keep an eye on the calendar for fun new things to learn, and artforms to explore.

Lastly; I would like to remind everyone to make sure their 2025 dues are paid ASAP if they aren't already; preferably before the end of January.

Wishing everyone a safe, successful, Art filled 2025,

Naomi B.

HAA President
